

WMG Vehicle Management (Retail) Ltd

Privacy and Cookie Policy

We are WMG Vehicle Management (Retail) Limited, company number 6246510 and whose registered office is Market House, Church Street, Harleston, Norfolk, IP20 9BB ('We', 'Us' or 'Our'). We take the privacy of our customers very seriously. We ask that you read this Privacy Policy ('the Policy') carefully as it contains important information about how we will use your personal data.

For the purposes of the General Data Protection Regulations ('the GDPR'), we are the 'data controller' (i.e. the company who is responsible for, and controls the processing of your personal data).

This Policy was last updated in May 2018 in line with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) reform. The reform sets out more rights for individuals and greater transparency in how personal data is processed by Data Controllers, such as consent, distribution, marketing and deletion. As we are a credit intermediary, we undertake a number of financial tasks that relate to consumer credit. Our firm's lawful basis for processing your personal data is done so under a Legitimate Interest - Article 6(1) (f) – "the processing is necessary for your legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party unless there is a good reason to protect the individual's personal data which overrides those legitimate interests."

Personal data we may collect

We will obtain personal data about you (including your name, date of birth, address, contact information, interests, payment details, financial information & opinions) and those whose personal data you have with express authority disclosed to us ('Others') whenever you complete an online form or make a telephone enquiry with us to receive our services. If you submit an online enquiry you will be required to agree to the terms of this Policy which include permitting us to contact you for the purposes of the finance related enquiry via the contact means of which you provide us with the details of. I.e. email address, telephone number, etc.

For example, we will obtain personal data when you (e.g. contact us for any reason, or purchase services). In certain circumstances, we may hold sensitive personal data if you provide us with such information if you feel that it is relevant for the purpose of your enquiry, but we will not ask for such information. Any sensitive personal data obtained and recorded will only be done so with your explicit consent.

We may monitor your use of our website through the use of cookies and similar tracking devices. For example, we may monitor how many times you visit, which pages you go to, traffic data, location data and the originating domain name of a user's internet service provider. This information helps us to build a profile of our users. Some of this data will be aggregated or used for statistical purposes. Please see further the section on 'use of cookies' below.

How we use personal data

We will use the personal data you disclose to us for the purposes described in our terms. These purposes include:

- to assist us in processing your enquiries and obtaining the services which you require;
- to help us identify you and any accounts you hold with us;
- undertaking credit checks;
- administration;
- research, statistical analysis and behavioural analysis;
- customer profiling and analysing your preferences;
- marketing (for further information see 'marketing and opting in' below);
- fraud prevention and detection;
- billing and order fulfilment;
- customising our website and its content to your particular preferences;
- to notify you of any changes to our website or to our services which may affect you;

- security vetting; and
- Improving our services.

Marketing and opting in

We may share your personal data with organisations as set out in the 'Disclosure of personal data' section below. If you have opted-in to receive our marketing material, we will ensure that it is to your requirements and granular. We or they may contact you or others (unless you have asked us or them not to do so) by mail, telephone, text message, email, (each contact method requires its own consent via an opt-in selection) The nature of these marketing communications relate to information on products, services, promotions and special offers which we believe may be of interest to you or others. If you or others would prefer not to receive any further direct marketing communications from us or our business partners, it is possible to opt out at any time. See further 'Your rights' below.

Disclosure of personal data

We may disclose personal data which you provide to us to:

- Our agents and service providers (e.g. providers of web hosting, maintenance services or potential funders);
- law enforcement agencies in connection with any investigation to help prevent unlawful activity;
- Our business partners in accordance with the 'Marketing and opting in' section above, specifically being:
 - our group companies (as defined in the Companies Act 2006);
 - finance companies with whom we deal for the purposes of providing our services to you;
 - Insurance companies with whom we deal for the purposes of providing our services to you and to verify information provided to us by you; and
 - other third parties with whom we deal in the course of providing our services to you; and
- Any regulators within whose jurisdiction we operate from time to time.

Please be aware that we will not sell or otherwise disclose any personal data provided to us to any other party without your express permission.

Keeping data secure

Whilst we will use all reasonable efforts to safeguard your personal data, you acknowledge that the use of the internet is not entirely secure and for this reason we cannot guarantee the security or integrity of any personal data which is transferred from you or to you via the internet.

Monitoring

We may monitor and record communications with you (such as telephone conversations and emails) for the purpose of quality assurance, training, fraud prevention, compliance or charitable purposes.

Information about other individuals

If you give us information about others, you confirm that the other person has appointed you to act on his/her behalf and has agreed that you can. This is also relevant where others are concerned if you indeed ask another person to act on your behalf as a third party.

Under the third party authorisation, the other person can:

- give consent on his/her behalf to the processing of his or her personal or sensitive personal data for the purposes and reasons set out in this policy; and
- Receive on his/her behalf any data protection notices.

Use of Google Analytics Advertising

We use Google Analytics Advertising Features ('GAAF') through our website, which means that certain information about the traffic on our website is collected. In light of using GAAF, We will not facilitate the merging of personally-identifiable information with non-personally identifiable information collected through GAUF unless we receive your express consent to that merger.

Furthermore, we are hereby notifying you that:

- The specific GAUF feature(s) which we have implemented are:
 - Remarketing with Google Analytics
 - Google Display Network Impression Reporting
 - Google Analytics Demographics and Interest Reporting
- We use first-party cookies (such as GAUF cookies) or other first-party identifiers, and third-party cookies (such as advertising cookies) or other third-party identifiers together and that this is done in the ways detailed under the sub-heading 'Use of First & Third Party Cookies and Identifiers' below; and
- You can opt-out of the GAUF you use, including through Ads Settings, Ad Settings for mobile apps, or any other available means such as the Google Analytics currently available opt-outs accessible via <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout/>

Use of cookies

A cookie is a small text file which is placed onto your computer (or other electronic device) when you access our website. We may use cookies and other online tracking devices on our website to:

- keep track of the details you have provided and take you through any process on the website;
- recognise you whenever you visit our website (this speeds up your access to the website as you do not have to log on each time);
- obtain information about your preferences, online movements and use of the internet;
- carry out research and statistical analysis to help improve our content, products and services and to help us better understand our visitor requirements and interests;
- target our marketing campaigns and those of our partners more effectively by providing interest-based advertisements that are personalised to your interests; and
- Make your online experience more efficient and enjoyable.

The information we obtain from our use of cookies will not usually contain your personal data. Although we may obtain information about your computer or other electronic device such as your IP address, your browser and/or other internet log information, this will not usually identify you personally. In certain circumstances we may collect personal information about you – but only where you voluntarily provide it (e.g. by completing an online form or making a telephone enquiry) or where you purchase services from or through us.

In most cases we will need your consent in order to use cookies on our website. The exception is where the cookie is essential in order for us to provide you with a service you have requested.

We may work with third-party suppliers who may also set cookies on our website. Third-party suppliers are responsible for the cookies they set on our website. If you want further information please go to the website for the relevant third party. Third party cookies currently in use include:

- google analytics - visitor tracking
- whoson - visitor tracking and online chat functionality
- jtrack - visitor tracking
- mousestats - session recording
- visualweboptimiser - a/b split testing
- trustpilot - visitor reviews

If you do not want to accept cookies, you can change your browser settings so that cookies are not accepted. If you do this, please be aware that you may lose some of the functionality of our website. For further information about cookies and how to disable them please go to: www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org.

Your rights

You have the right to request access to your personal data which we process. This formal request is made under the GDPR and is referred to as a Subject Access Request. If you wish to exercise this right you should:

- put your request in writing;
- include proof of your identity and address (e.g. a copy of your driving licence or passport, and a recent utility or credit card bill);
- Specify the personal data you want access to, including any account or reference numbers where applicable.

You have the right to require us to correct any inaccuracies in your data free of charge. If you wish to exercise this right you should:

- put your request in writing;
- provide us with enough information to identify you (e.g. account/order number, username, registration details); and
- Specify the information that is incorrect and what it should be replaced with.

You also have the right to ask us to stop processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes. If you wish to exercise this right you should:

- put your request in writing (an email sent to paulcoe@w-m-g.com with a header that says 'unsubscribe' is acceptable);
- provide us with enough information to identify you (e.g. account/order number, username, registration details);
- If your objection is not to direct marketing in general, but to direct marketing by a particular channel (e.g. email or telephone) please specify the channel you are objecting to.

Data Retention

- We will only process your personal data providing you have given your consent for us to do so. Under the provisions of the GDPR, our firm's lawful basis for processing personal data is based on a Legitimate Interest.
- The legitimate interest relates to a legal requirement for the firm to hold your personal data and financial information on record for up to a total of six years. This six year period satisfies the requirement of our regulator, The Financial Conduct Authority and is also in line with other financial industry retention periods.

International Transfers

- In the normal course of business there may be a need for WMG Vehicle Management (Retail) Ltd or any other firm associated to the business, usually when processing an application for credit, personal data would have to be transferred outside of the European Economic Area (EEA) where those countries do not typically have the same protections and safeguards in place for the protection of personal data to those countries within the EEA.
- WMG Vehicle Management (Retail) Ltd deal with a number of large, international corporations where data is likely to be transferred in this way. Assurances and processes will always be put in place and considered before any international transfer to a non-EEA country is undertaken to ensure the protection and security of the personal data.
